This week in Year 1...

This week in English, we started a new book called The dinosaurs and all that rubbish by Michael Foreman. We spoke about what the word dream means and children had to write sentences about their own dreams.

In Maths, our focus was on equal groups by sharing a given number of objects. Children used different objects from the classroom or outside to understand this concept and made them equal groups by sharing.

In History, we learned more about people from the past and how they explore the world. Our focus was on Matthew Henson, who reached the North Pole beyond leaving memories and how he got there.

What a lovely experience we all had to visit the London Aquarium. We saw different sea creatures and the children were fascinated by all of them.

Thank you to all the parents who have volunteered and helped us with this trip.
