This week in Year 2...

This week in English, we have begun exploring 'If All the World Were' by Joseph Coelho and Alison Colpoys. The children are developing their understanding of the characters while practising how to use subordinating conjunctions to extend and improve their writing.

In Maths, the children will be developing their understanding of non-unit fractions, learning to recognise and find them by using their knowledge of numerators and denominators.

In RE, the children have been learning about the monarchy, exploring its history and how rulers came to gain power over time.

In Science, we are exploring how plants grow in different conditions, helping the children to understand what plants need to survive and thrive.
